Key Note Speaker Bio

Dr. Jude Kiah

Dr. Jude Kiah is Assistant Vice President for Auxiliary Services in the Division of Financial Administration at Xavier University in Cincinnati, OH.

Previously, he served for 20 years at Western Illinois University in Macomb, IL in a variety of roles, at the Savannah College of Art and Design, and SUNY Potsdam.

His current role encompasses 20 revenue generating areas of Xavier University in which 450 employees serve the community. He moved to Cincinnati in 2015.

Jude undertook the creation of Macomb's fixed route public transportation system in 1997. Since its operational inception in 1999, Go West grew from 3 buses, 2 routes, and 6 employees, to 30 buses, 19 routes, and 125 employees during Jude's tenure. It was also the largest rural bus system in the United States (by ridership), won two national awards, and was the most cost efficient system in the state of Illinois for 7 consecutive years.

He has served in varying roles across four universities in judicial affairs, the college/university union, bookstore, residence life, athletics, information technology, student publications, and university relations.

Jude began his career in 1991 at SUNY Potsdam as the Sports Information Director. He moved in 1993 to work at the Savannah College of Art and Design in Savannah, GA in student services. He moved to Western Illinois University in 1995 to work in Western's Residence Life program.

Jude is also a professional speaker and business consultant for regional and national organizations in the topics of customer service, supervision, leadership, team building, and life management. He also served on the faculty of Western Illinois' Supervisor training program.

He holds bachelors degrees in Political Science (1991) and Secondary Social Studies Education (1992), and a Master's degree in Social Science (1993) from Potsdam College of the State University of New York. He also holds a Finance MBA (2002) from the business school at Western and a PhD in Business Administration (Management) from Northcentral University (2015).

Jude has officiated high school and college basketball over a 31 year career in 11 states, culminating in 3 state final and 2 state championship assignments in Illinois; is an avid Yankee fan, and enjoys public service, home improvement, entrepreneurship, and spending time with his family. He lives in Cincinnati, OH.
